Squads Honored

Members of the varsity and freshmen football and soccer teams received athletic awards yesterday morning before a spirited assembly which jammed Morris Dailey auditorium.

Student body president Ronald Linn, assisted by yell-leader Saxon Downs and the Spartan band, officiated at the first assembly of the quarter.

Honorary and recognition presentations were the order of the day. Head Coach Dud DeGroot was presented with a plaque by the senior members of the grid squad.

Capt. "Si" Simoni, leader of the 1934 Spartan gridders, the co-holders of the F.W.C. title, was presented a gold medal by Alpha Phi Gamma, national coeducational honorary journalistic fraternity, which unanimously chose Simoni as the honorary captain of the All-F.W.C. football team.

The Spartan captain of last season was also presented a blanket by his teammates.

Coaches of varsity and freshmen football and soccer teams presented the athletic awards to their respective squads.

Senior sweater awards, designating four years of participation in the sport, were awarded to Capt. "Si" Simoni and Rinaldo Wren.

Soccer letters were presented James Billwiller, John Brecker, Stephen Crow, Robert Doerr, Paul Gerhart, Nicholas Germano, Geo.

Capacity Crowd Expected At Hop Tomorrow Night

Big Masquerade Ball
March 16 To Close
Social Season

Featuring surprise novel decorations, with the theme to be carried out by Mel McDonald and his nine piece orchestra, the student body dance Saturday night from 9 to 12 in the Men's gym is expected to draw a capacity crowd.

According to Ralph Meyers, chairman of the social affairs committee, the "Grand Masquerade" on March 16, which will close the social season for the quarter.

Two Friday afternoon dances, however, and one after-game dance are scheduled before the Masquerade, stated Meyers yesterday.

Students working on the dance committee are Warren Tormey, Virginia Hamilton, Paul Jungermann, Barbara Carr, Alice Wilson, Bill Jennings, Joe Maynard, Steven Crow, Lou Fencil, Byron Lanphear, Jim Dunlap, Jane Smelt, and Betty Bruch.

Formal Tea Dance To Feature Appearance of Football Team In Body

Reflecting a new note in the affairs of the college, the recently announced Tea Dance in honor of the football team will be one of the few formal affairs of the season. The dansant will take place between 2 and 5 o'clock on Saturday, February 16.

The affair will be a climax to an active and highly successful season, and will probably be the last appearance of the team as a group. Music for the dancing will be furnished by Craigs Cardinals, and several of the intermission numbers will be supplied by individuals on the team. Admission to the affair will be 75 cents, and since there will be only one hundred bids printed, Chairman Harold Goldstein advises that they be secured promptly.

Musical Half Hour To Be Sponsored By Phi Mu Alpha, Music Club

Phi Mu Alpha will sponsor the Musical Half Hour of Friday, March 1, it was decided at the meeting of the men's music honor society last night. Don Madsen is in charge of the program.

A picnic will be held by the fraternity this coming Sunday at Alum Rock. The men will meet at the park at noon. After lunch the more hardy members will tramp into the nearby hills for a hike.

Plans for a "smoker" to be given at the Lion's Den, the scene of many previous successful gatherings, were formulated.

At the close of the meeting, songs were sung by the group and "eats" were enjoyed.

CLUB HAS BIG EDGE OVER S. J.; FROSH TO PLAY

By GIL BISHOP
Basketball fans will be furnished with a dish that promises to be sizzling hot tonight when the pride of San Francisco's Post Street, the Olympic Club, take on San Jose State's Spartans in the Spartan Pavilion.

Boasting of the bay city's strongest club aggregation, the "Winged O" present a front of reputations that would daunt any basketball team. Elfert, Kincannon, Lewis—names that mean dynamite in casaba circles. The red and white suited invaders will have an edge on the Spartans in everything—height, weight, experience and all of the essentials except one—the old college spirit.

Just how much youth and enthusiasm can make up for these other factors will be determined when the two teams face each other at the tip-off scheduled for 8 p.m.

SPARTANS UNDERDOGS

Underdogs in the eyes of the fans, the Spartans will put up far from a united front against the Clubmen. Bill Crawford, the unlucky boy of the squad, is just abandoning his crutches and will not see action for at least two weeks. "Shoes" Holmberg brought his charging tactics into play again in scrimmage and received a cut right eyebrow, although the boy from Ceres is almost a cinch to get into the fray tonight.

JOHNSON INJURED

Mel Isenberger, he of the cut cheek and the vari-colored optic, seems to have completely recovered from his gash and is expected to come back into his Nevada game form. "Soapy" Johnson is the last of the question-mark boys, the blonde guard slashing a thumb while attempting to sever the top from a can, but is not seriously handicapped.

The game tonight will probably

SIGMA TAU WILL PAINT MURALS ON WALLS OF CAFETERIA

For the purpose of beginning work on the murals for the cafeteria, a project Sigma Tau art honor society has recently taken over, the group will meet Sunday morning at the home of Miss Estelita Hoisholt, faculty sponsor of the society, at which time breakfast will be served to the members.

A figurative map of the campus will decorate the end wall of the cafeteria, according to Miss Hoisholt. Other murals will represent campus departments, activities professors, and students. A semi-humorous style will be used for these paintings.

This project was taken over by Sigma Tau at the suggestion of Mrs. Sarah M. Dowdle, of the Home Economics department, and Miss Moisholt, art instructor.

Plans For Spardi Gras Discussed By Council at Meeting

Queen For Event May Be Selected To Rule For Day

"Queen of the Spardi Gras" may be the title bestowed upon a San Jose State co-ed if the present plans discussed by the student council at an executive meeting last Wednesday noon follow through.

In response to an editorial in the Spartan Daily discussing the possibility of student participation in the proposed revival of the "Fiesta de las Rosas", the council shelved the project because of the already full college activities program of the All-school picnic and the forth coming Spardi Gras and Revelries.

CO-ED RULER

The possibility of an honorary feminine ruler for Spardi Gras day was appointed to Hugh Staffebach for investigation.

Sixty dollars was appropriated to the debate team for hospitality and entertainment for visiting forensics groups.

Russell Azzarra, co-chairman of the all-school picnic tentatively scheduled for May 26, made a report to the council. Arrangements are being made to serve ice cream and coffee at the outing, and rates for a special train to Seaciff are under investigation.

BOXING QUESTION

The fate of boxing as either a minor or major sport for San Jose State will remain unsettled for another year, according to the report of Bill Jennings.

Jennings declared that Director of Athletics Hovey C. McDonald will watch the boxing of the leather-pushing for a while before making recommendations for it.

Vera Moss, Edwin Markham Health Cottage representative, was authorized the sum of $10 by the council for the purchase of games and books for student convalescents at the Cottage.

STATE EMPLOYEES GROUP TO MEET IN LOS ANGELES

Consideration of proposals to recognize the association, the election of officers, and a discussion of what is to be done of the coming finance proposals of the government, will be the business of the general council of the state employees association when it meets this week-end in Los Angeles, according to M. Earl Campbell, social science instructor and local delegate to the meeting.

Mr. Guy C. George, commerce instructor, and a member of the state executive committee of the association will also attend.

Any state employee may join the association, which besides the local meetings, sends delegates annually to the state meeting.

BULL PEN LIKED

Next Commandment
Is "Thou Shalt Not Smoke In Quads"

By OLIVE STREET

A review of San Jose State college customs and student body resolutions reveals certain "do's" and "don't's" about the campus smoking question.

The social edict on smoking stipulates: "Thou shalt not smoke in either the front or rear quads, near any of the building entrances, or in the campus buildings."

BULL PEN

Smoking has always been permitted on the front and south campuses, with the "Bull pen" on the south campus being a favorite retreat for Lady Nicotine's boy friends.

Those who do the campus housecleaning, according to Mr. Joseph Stillwell, superintendent of grounds, can't get around during the day often enough to keep the campus clean.

SNIPE HARVEST

"If we kept all the 'snipes' we scrape up particularly from in front of the Science building doors and the entrance to the front quad, we would have a pretty big pile in two or three days. Three times a day we make the rounds."

The reaction met in the Administration office brought out a different angle to the smoking question. None of the eight campus buildings are covered by fire insurance, it was learned, and while most of them are class "B" buildings and largely fire proof, the possibilities of fire form one important reason for smoking restrictions.

Bibliophiles To Enjoy Valentine's Day Party at Van der Ploeg Home

A Valentine's Day party is being planned by the Bibliophiles for for next Thursday, announces Wilfred McIntyre, general chairman for the affair.

The party will be given at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Van der Ploeg, 205 South 12th street, and all faculty and library students are invited by the organization.

Members of the committee assisting the chairman in making arrangements for the evening are Frances Gonzales, invitations; Elizabeth Blakey, decorations; Clarisse O'Connell refreshments; and Barbara Wood, entertainment.

Erlendson, Thompson Give Musical Program Sunday In Palo Alto

Mr. William Erlendson, pianist, and Miss Maurine Thompson, contralto, members of the college music faculty, will present an hour's recital in the Palo Alto Community Theater Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Erlendson will play a Bach suite and a modern group, and Miss Thompson will sing two groups of songs, accompanied by Jean Stirling. The public is extended a cordial invitation to hear the program.

LET 'EM EAT CAKE

By RAYMOND WALLACE

"And some grew weary of the ghastly dance, and fell, as I have fallen by the wayside."

What a somber mood of depression Shelley must have been in when he wrote those words. He had, perhaps, an innate consciousness of the futility of carrying on, well founded, it may be, for he never lived to complete the poem. And how many of us will adopt the same attitude when the blue cards begin arriving.

Why does a monkey's face always look so sad? I recently gave one a peanut, which he cracked between his teeth, then daintily extracted from the shell with his slender fingers, meanwhile grieving deeply, judging from his expression. Putting the kernel into his mouth, he chewed sorrowfully, with the air of expecting to find that I had given him a stone. Finding that it was good, with a pathetic gesture of resignation he held out his hand for another.

Last night, as I ate my dinner in the hell's kitchen where economic necessity compels me to eat my dinner, a man and his wife and their three children came in. They took seats near mine, and when all were served, the women struck up a conversation with the waitress. It appeared that this was the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage, and they were making an evening of it, by having dinner out, and taking in a show afterward.

A quenching thought, that anyone's economic status should be so reduced that he could find his crystal wedding adequately celebrated by dinner in a fourth-rate Greek restaurant, and an evening at the movies.

The recent strife between the sexes at S.J.S. must have been settled for at the Wednesday dance in the quad, all the girls present were dancing. The hopeful-looking band of girls watching the dance from the refuge of the hallway in front of the information office can hardly be said to have been present.

Half a dozen small boys were playing in a vacant lot. They were evidently going to have a battle, for piles of grass-clumps lay about, and they were constructing stone forts. A little girl lingered near, obviously wanting to play with them, but too timid—perhaps from previous rebuffs—to say anything. The boys ignored her. This was Men's Work, and they hurried back and forth past her as if she were no more than a stone.

But they can't keep that up. In ten years more they will be begging her for dates.

For the pigskin-cavorters who received their golden ovals yesterday, the current Cole Porter ditty may be apropos: "You're the tops!" Hope we will say that to the casaba-tossers too.

The admiring glances of some dove-like student couples over the "model house" near the San Fernando corner of the campus.

Their amorous messages seem to say, "house's about it?"

Life begins at 8:40. Or 8:05, to be exact. The commuters' clique of the campus forms a group which has its own peculiar quirks and habits. A gulp, a bite, and dash for the choo-choo. Groans and yawns. A picture slice of any number of towns all points north and south of Washington Square.

8:05. The seemingly endless outpour of students from the coaches. Hundreds of them. The mad dash to beat the bell.

The afternoon ride home. Chatter, study (?), bridge games. Maybe life begins at 3:45

And if the train mileage of all the commuting-student were laid end to end . . . or has it been done before?

Joyce's "Ulyssess" and the ban which has been against it. Some of the stuff read recently in the creative writing class would make Joyce welcome with open arms.

But true artistic expression must have its outlet. And so Joyce will have his bed-fellows clothed with less artistry possibly, from our genius group.

Just to add to the list of classic phrases: "I came to college to study."

SOCIAL PROBLEMS CLASS AWAITS CRIME STUDIES

San Jose State awaits "Five Hundred Delinquent Women". No, it isn't a crime wave that is anticipated. "Five Hundred Delinquent Women" is a sociology reference book which is being sent to the college library, for the use of Mr. Elliott Guild's class in Social Problems. The class also is waiting for "Boy and Girl Tramps of America."

Just Among Ourselves

By Dr. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Note: This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

It's almost impossible to clear up delusions of persecution. What concerns me is that some honest, decent people may be taken in by the lies. It couldn't be for long, of course, for well-balanced, intelligent people don't become suckers permanently.

I've been interested to note the progress of the present drive. Looks to me as if they have made only one real convert, and he has never amounted to anything around here. He's the fellow who has shown on several occasions his disrespect for the United States, although he yells to high heaven about his rights under our constitution. He hasn't even the decency to stand and take off his hat when the band plays The Star Spangled Banner.

In a situation like the present one, honesty, fairness and courtesy are almost a handicap. One naturally assumes that his caller is genuine until he knows otherwise. A good many of us took that attitude, and it was some time before we realized the vicious nature of the person.

Most of the first group of four crusaders got over it in short order. There were only two the next time, both of them new. I'm sure they didn't know what it was all about, just scented some excitement, and suddenly found themselves the goats. Two others came later, one with a decided persecution complex, swallowing hook, line, and sinker, and the other just a simple soul wandering about.

Really, the whole cheap, dishonest, anonymous business isn't worth a moment's notice, but it is somewhat irritating to think that a gang of sadists in New York, racketeers in human misery, can reach out across the continent and attempt to promote disloyalty and poor citizenship in a public educational institution in California.

If I thought there was a chance in the world of developing any honesty or decency in their representatives here, I'd be the first to help. But that's impossible, I believe. They are evidently unbalanced, and incapable of clear thinking. They have sold out what brains they have to an outside and vicious organization whose objective is the very destruction of our nation. One of their representatives made that statement here publicly a few years ago.

It's just as well for all of us to let people like that know they're unwelcome in this fine, wholesome college of ours. I doubt very much if the personal relations of some of those people would meet the approval of a wholesome society. Wouldn't it be odd if we were to send one of them out as a teacher in our public schools?

While I am at it, I may as well repeat for any new students what I have said often in this column, and what our old students know to be the truth. San Jose State has never objected to honest thinking and honest speech. No one, faculty or students has ever been called to account for anything he has said or for any attitude he has taken. There has never been any discrimination on the basis of politics, religion, race, ability or anything else. But the college has always objected to lies, anonymous attacks, outside propaganda and expressions of disrespect for the United States of America. This college has been particularly free in permitting speakers to come here and use the college facilities. But the State of California plans to run its own affairs, and is not simple enough to permit an unlawful group to use state property for the promotion of their vicious ends.

If you have a complaint to make about conditions here, come in and let us know. If it's in line with the purposes of the college, I'll make a thorough investigation and correct the situation. If you think, however, that we have a rather fine college, and that San Jose State is worthy of your respect, just put in a plug for the good of the cause once in a while. In any case, don't let outsiders, uninvited and unwelcome, come to our campus and make suckers out of us.

GOLDEN GATE SWIMMERS BEAT STATE 54 TO 35

NEW MARK SET IN 440 EVENT BY RALPH GILMAN

Setting four pool records and one new Pacific Coast Intercollegiate record, the Golden Gate Junior College swimming team defeated the Spartan paddlers by a 54-35 score in the Spartan plunge last night. The State college swimmers surprised in some departments to show unexpected strength, but could not overcome the advantage enjoyed by the Madera coached outfit composed of greats and near greats.

A new Pacific Coast Intercollegiate record of 5 minutes one-tenth of a second was set by Ralph Gilman before an enthusiastic crowd.

Bob Walker set a new pool record of 1:07 in the one hundred yard backstroke, breaking a record set by Park of the same team last year. Art Lindegren again set a new pool record for the 100 yard freestyle when he covered the distance in 54.3 seconds. A medley relay team composed of Walker, Winberg, Lindegren set a new pool record in the 300 yard medley relay in 3:12.7 just missing a new Pacific Coast record by five-tenths of a second.

The diving resulted in one of the closest contests ever witnessed in Spartan plunge, with but ninety-five-one hundredths of a point separating the first and third place men. First place was won by Charlie York of the locals, with Doriss nosing out Johnnie DeSmet for second place.

400 yd. freestyle relay—Won by team of Gilman, Draper, Freeland, Lindegren (GG); team of Douglas, Locks, Bruning, Tuxford (SJ) 2. Time 4:10.

Spartan Nine To Meet Stanford On Sunken Diamond

By RANDY SMITH

Stanford entertains State tomorrow in a baseball tiff which takes place around 2:30 on the sunken diamond at the Farm.

While it is not customary for guests to go about assaulting hosts, San Jose desires nothing more than to give Stanford a lovely thumping.

Joe Blacow, who mentors the local pastimers, is in Palo Alto Wednesday when Stanford meets Al Earle's All-Stars, and the Spartan coach is not overly impressed with the brand of ball which Harry Wolter's lads display.

"We can take 'em," Joe informs, with the emphasis on second word. He does not say will, which shows much canniness on his part. "They're not too good. But, for that matter, neither are we."

Burt Watson, left handed flinger, is assigned the starting position in the box. Watson is the lad who subdued the war clubs of the San Francisco Dons last week.

And if Watson can't go the route, Marv Olsen, another port sider, is ready. However, if the Stanfordites get too gay with the offerings of the two State south-

PRELIMINARY TONIGHT; SAN JOSE FROSH PLAY PAIR TOMORROW NIGHT

The fast-stepping Spartan Frosh quintets are meeting three tough opponents this week-end in Montezuma School, Salinas Jr. College and San Rafael Military Academy fives.

An outstanding record has been compiled by the busy yearlings this year. So far Portal's men have dropped only three games. Menlo Jaysee, Sequoia High, and St. Joseph's are the only clubs which overturned the speedy first year men.

Friday night, 6:45, in a preliminary to the varsity-Olympic Club tilt, the frosh will meet the Montezuma hoophmen.

On Saturday, the Portalmen will present a doubleheader of their own with one squad taking on the Salinas Jaysee team and the other meeting the San Rafael Cadets.

The first game will begin at 6:30. According to Portal, those planning to attend the student body dance, should arrive early to see two fast games. He adds that the freshmen are out to keep a clean slate for the remainder of the season.

find McDonald starting his "heavy" team against the larger clubmen. The preliminary attack based on Biddle, Johnson, Taylor, Holmberg and Isenberger is designed to pave the way for the smaller but speedier five picked from Downs, DeSelle, Arnerich, Concannon, Drexel and Wing.

CONFERENCE TILTS

The club game will mark the last battle for the staters before they swing into the final series of conference tilts, with Fresno, Chico and Cal Aggies on tap for the next three weeks. A comparison with the strong Olympics will put the final stamp of approval on San Jose State. A loss would not be an overwhelming surprise but a win would look mighty good on the record sheet.

FERRASCI OBTAINS LEAD IN LA TORRE PICTURE CONTEST

With the La Torre Picture Identification contest ending its third week today, "high-point" contestants were beginning to feel more confident as they realized that only two weeks of the event remained.

However, Mary Ferrasci, leading contestant for the co-ed's prize La Torre during the first week's tabulation and who forfeited her lead during the second week to Daphne McKinley, because she had not turned in the second week's list, regained the lead with 142 points as she handed in the second list yesterday.

Miss Ferrasci now leads her opponent with eight points.

Posters Collected By Miss Hoisholt Now On Display In Art Room

Posters collected in European travel by Miss Estella Hoisholt of the art department, who has made trips abroad several times, are now on display in Room 1 of the art department.

The majority of the posters in this private collection are from France, Germany, and England. According to Mr. John French of the art department, France and Germany show a prime interest in design in their poster work. These two countries base their poster art on cubism that is, straight line figures in cube form.

England is quite modern in poster design, basing its work on simplicity. English posters portray a certain nearness to nature not shown in posters of other countries. A few of the posters in the exhibition are American and were used in the World's Fair in Chicago.
